

ABOUT GENNY EARLY

Genny has lived in Stonesfield for over 20 years, since moving here with her two young sons. After working in academic publishing, Genny now co-runs a small business with her partner, employing local people. She therefore has real-world experience of the challenges of growing a business through Covid and the current economic situation.

Genny helps to manage Oxfordshire conservation groups including the Wychwood Flora Group, managing landscape for wild flowers, and the Farmland Bird Aid Network, feeding and monitoring farmland birds and other wildlife. She recently completed an MSc in Conservation Ecology at Oxford Brookes University.

“As your Councillor, I will work to improve social fairness, to sustainably revitalise the local rural community, create employment, champion local food production, and help our communities protect and regenerate the natural landscape, plants and wildlife.”

Genny Early, Green Candidate

“Through the Farmland Bird Aid Network, I have experienced Genny's leadership first hand: establishing partnerships with local farmers and volunteers, meeting the challenges of Covid, and now seeing the reality of the climate crisis and the need for action.

YOU DECIDE

It is between Genny and the Liberal Democrats in Stonesfield and Tackley this time. Genny has strong support across the ward and many Conservative, Lib Dem and Labour supporters are voting for Genny in this election.

In the past three years, West Oxfordshire's Green Councillors, Andrew Prosser, Rosie Pearson and Sandra Simpson, have worked tirelessly to challenge unsustainable housing developments and river pollution, championing space for nature and for food production.

If elected, Genny will provide a strong Green voice for our villages, pushing for joined-up action on planning, transport, local jobs and services.

CREATING A BETTER FUTURE TOGETHER

Genny will be a strong green voice for our villages. Green Councillors are already working hard for residents: supporting new social housing, helping with the cost of living, pushing for more green space and food-growing space; and putting climate and nature recovery at the heart of decision making. Greens were the first councillors to call out Thames Water on sewage pollution and are working with planning officers to support local energy generation for homes and small businesses while protecting the character of our villages. While we urgently need more renewable energy generation, Genny is opposed to the scale of the Botley West Solar Farm proposals, believing that the land should be protected for wildlife and regenerative farming.

SUPPORTING SMALL BUSINESSES AND SHOPS

REDUCING TRAFFIC SPEEDS MAKING ROADS SAFER

SUPPORTING NATURE RECOVERY, RURAL JOBS AND REGENERATIVE FARMING

PROTECTING VILLAGE BUS AND TRAIN SERVICES

SEWAGE POLLUTION

Raw sewage in our rivers is a reality and Conservative-backed laws have weakened the powers to prosecute water companies for illegal sewage dumping.

Upgrading our sewage works after decades of under-investment will take time (with the cost currently being put onto the consumer). Meanwhile, sewage overflows will continue as new houses are connected to a failing system.

Genny will fight to make sure that infrastructure including sewerage upgrades are in place before new house building is approved.

A BALANCE OF VIEWS

It is a choice between Genny or a second Liberal Democrat councillor in Stonesfield and Tackley this time.

Voting Green brings more balance and independent views in local decision making. The Conservatives' numbers are going down rapidly. The Lib Dems are already the largest group on the District Council and are in an Alliance together with Labour and the Greens.
